CONNECT TO WORK

Funded by UK Government

SUPPORTING EMPLOYERS

Our Job Box service can give your business and employees all the support they need to get back to the workplace through the FREE 'Connect to Work' programme.

Funded through the Department for Work and Pensions, this initiative can help you and them get back on track.

We understand how important it is to keep valued members of staff.

Our skilled employment specialists can:

- Offer help for those off work following a long period of absence (health condition or disability)
- Support those in danger of losing their job
- Give advice to help with the adjustment

This intensive free support is available for up to 4 months.

We can also offer you support including:

- A one-stop shop for information about job vacancies, training and employment
- Updates on local jobs fair and events that you may be interested in
- Support for businesses to offer good quality work experience or work trial placements
- Support to help your business engage with schools and prepare young people for the workplace
- Help for your workforce with career changes, upskilling or redundancy support
- A range of courses to support personal and professional development e.g. first aid, food safety, mental health first aid and suicide intervention skills
- Support to help you employ people from a wide talent pool
- Additional help with recruitment including training needs identified by the employer e.g. interview skills
